The prisoner was an old man from Marion county, and was defended by Hon. F. Smith and Col. Arnett. He fainted soon after the verifiet was announced, and it took some moments to bring him to his senses. The court fixed his fine at $300 and announced that in view of his extreme age it would take time to consider the length of imprisonment, and meantime an opportunity would be alforded the prisoner's friends, of which it was claimed he had a large number, to come forward and settle his case. Miss Rogers will hold the boards at the Opera House next Saturday afternoon and evening, playing her new version of "East Lynne" at the matince, and presenting a grand double bill in the evening, "Galatea, the Statur," and "Leah, the Jewish Maiden."

There were two incipient fires Saturday evening, both no doubt incendiary. One was in the cellar of the building formerly occupied by the Repister, and was put out by Captain Bennett and several other men. The other was in a coal shed in North Wheeling, in aliey B, and the Vigilant engine boys tore the shanty down before the flauses did any damage. Alarms were rung in both times.

The Nail City Bicycle Club will meet this evening at the Stamm House for re-organization. Last season this club did not do much as a club, although three of the members rode on their machines to Cincinnati. This year there will be at least fifteen members. Thirteen machines are already owned here and more are expected. Parades and trips to Stenbenville and neighboring towns will be this season's programme.

The other day when the resolution appropriating money to repair the clock on the State House was under consideration, Judge Ferguson rose in the House to seek information. He said, with a look at the antiquated time piece which hangs over the Speaker's chair, and is by cout 'sy called a "regulator," that he had been informed that a new face for the clock would out as much as $300. He asked if it wouldn't be economical to purchase a new and better clock. How much, he wanted to know, were the works worth? Mr. McNell asked him how much he supposed. "Oh, about $15, at the highest calculation." "They cost about $5,000 or $6,000," said McNell. The incredulons and digasted look which the Judge cust at the harmlese box of mechanism on the House wall revealed his mistake, and raised a general laugh. Steam Vessels, Secenth District, Cincinnati, O.: Six.—We beg leave to report that on the imorning of the 10th inst., about the hour of 3 o'clock, the passenger steamer "Sidney" while ascending the Ohio river, twelve miles below flavenswood, W. Va., burst her main steam pipe, resulting in the loss of life. Fifteen in all were injured; of the number twelve have died, including three attaches of the boat. The remaining three, we are informed, will recover; they were passengers. The pipe is 6% inches in diameter and comparatively new, having been in use leas than two years; it was constructed of ainty pound copper sheets and brazed. Nother pains nor pexpense was spared to make copper sheets and trazen. Nother pains nor expense was spared to make it a first class job, both as to material and mechanism. It was manufactured by U. The Cathedral was filled to overflowing yesterday by an audience that listened attenthe steamer in this city and along the river:

The rotund Commodore finally rescued a tangible motion from the incheate mass and put it to the House. The yeas and anys were demanded and the roll was called, the entire House responding as each member's name was called. The clerk reported the vote and the Speaker declared that no quorum was present, which induced some one to move a call of the House. The fun was now becoming red-hot, paper wads were fired about promiscuously, most of them being aimed at the Speaker. 12, and he dwelt on the immovable firmness, the absolute certainty which characterised the faith of the apostles.

A brief synopsis of his remarks is given: Sach too, he remarked, must faith ever be. It admits of no healtation; it is incompatible with every form of doubt. He only has faith who knows for certain that God has made known every doctrine which he believes, and who believes it solely because God has spoken, or he does not know it. In the latter case, he has not, and cannot have faith; in the former case, that is, if he knows that God has spoken, how is it possible for him to question or doubt? No sane man can call into question the truth of any doctrine revealed by God; but as long as a man is not absolutely certain that God has revealed it, he may have an opinion more or less probable, but he has not faith.

But if a doctrine is true now, it is absurd But if a doctrine is true now, it is absurd so call of the House. The fun was now becoming red-hot; paper wads were fired about the broad of them being aimed at the Speaker. The waste baskets were emptied, and armed with these, members watched for opportunities to adorn the heads of the unwary with them.

Several Senators had come into the hall, as "looker-on in Vienna." One distinguished Senator who had fought sgainst the payment of mileage to the pages and committee clerks of the House took a seat, which induced Mr. Hubbard to exclaim: "Mr. Speaker, I see it he Nestor of the Senate, the Hon. R. F. Dennis, in the hall, and I move that the pages and committee clerks be turned loose on him."

At once there was an uninterrupted fire of paper wads, bills and journals, which only a cased when the fun took another turn. Col. Jano. K. Thompson convulsed the House by offering House Bill 5,006, for the relief of Joseph S. Miller or the bill was as follows:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of West Virginia: That the sum'of $1$ be appropriated out of any mone in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to reimburse Joseph S. Miller for damages sustained on one shirt loaned State Treasurer O'Brien on his late official trip to Weston in answer to a summons as a witness before the Insane Committee.

Delegate Dodrill, while occupying the chair for a few fleeting moments, was completely upset both in dignity and body, by having the chair pulled from under him; meanwhile the fire of paper wads, books, &c. grew hotter and hotter, until the floor resembled the gory field of a hard fought battle.

The arrival of a member who had been secured by a muscular reporter and the fighting of the contraction of the Church, he acta against the direction of the Parkersburg Sentivel, acting under orders of the Sergeanat-Arns, calmed the contract of the contraction of the paper weaks, books, &c. grew hotter and hotter, until the floor resembled the gory field of a hard fought battle.

The arrival of a member who had been secured by a muscular reporter and the fighting of the paper wea certainty in matters of faith; for she alone teaches as having authority; she alone claims to be guided in her teaching by the ever-abiding presence of Christ and his Holy Spirit of truth. The countless interpretations put upon the Bible by those who profess to believe it, prove the need of some living authority to declare its true meaning. The Revised Edition is a new evidence of this need, which is supplied only in the Catholic Church. Those who feel the force of the arguments in favor of that church, should not close their hearts to the inspirations of God's grace, leading them to the home of peace, "the pillar and ground of the truth."
